“ Mom you are my best friend remember the other day I whispered best friend in your ear and you squeezed my hand and smiled and said best friends. We went everywhere together and done everything together until you got real sick and couldn't do ot anymore. Then I stayed by your side and held your hand until Kesus took the other hand. I don't know if this hole in my heart will ever mend. I will meet you again real soon just inside the eastern gate. Keep watching for me it won't be long. I love you so much that there are not enough words say it.
